Hatchet

By Gary Paulsen

Directions: Before reading Hatchet, carefully read each of the statements below. If you agree with the statement, write a Y for yes in the Before column. If you disagree with the statement, write an N for no in the Before column.

	Before	After
There are some secrets you must share. -----
It's always best to keep calm and think positively during a crisis. -----
Feeling sorry for yourself can help you make better choices. -----
You only learn from the things you do well. -----
Learning how to survive in your surrounding environment can mean the difference between life and death. -----
You must conquer nature in order to survive in it. -----
Do not say anything if your parents make you angry. -----
Learning about yourself can change your outlook on life. -----

Once you have finished Hatchet reread each statement. Again, write a Y for yes in the After column if you agree with the statement. Write an N for no in the After column if you disagree with the statement.
